

Ludus Advanced Internship Program

Start Date: June 25, 2008 (Pamplona, Spain)
Finish Date: August 25, 2008 (Beijing, China)

Ludus Tours is looking for a select few individuals to participate in an advanced internship position for Summer 2008.

The position starts in Pamplona, where you'll assist with clients from around the world for the San Fermes Festival. Clients will leave around July 15th, and you'll have to be in Beijing by July 20th.

In Beijing, you'll help manage the Ludus Tours logistics as well as learn the city. You will most likely be managing guides during the Games.

What's Covered

Housing is covered in Pamplona until July 15th and in Beijing from July 20th (or earlier) until August 25th. Accommodations will be dorms or hotel rooms and will most likely require a roommate and possibly changing of hotels during your stay. You will receive a per diem of approximately $200 per week. You will have plenty of dinners covered by Ludus and most likely daily breakfast. You will receive some official gear as well as no less than 3 event tickets during the Olympic Games.

What's Not Covered

Airfare will be paid by you. All meals are not covered (except Ludus dinners, happy hours, etc.). Souvenirs, etc. will also not be included.

What You'll Be Doing

You'll be in charge of assisting our event manager and coordinating the other tour guides. Because you'll have one Ludus event under your belt by the time the Olympic Games roll around, we expect you to have more of a leadership role. That being said, our entire team will be responsible for everything from airport transfers to coordinating banquet dinners.

If interested, please send resume and references to internship@ludustours.com